

Econocheck Corporation Privacy and Security Policy

At Econocheck Corporation, we recognize and respect the privacy and security expectations of our customers. As our customer, you have entrusted us to protect your privacy and to safeguard your personal information. We take this responsibility seriously and have taken steps to ensure your continued confidence in our organization.

This Privacy and Security Policy describes how we collect and use your personal information and how we maintain the confidentiality and accuracy of such information. This policy also explains how you can verify the accuracy of information regarding your relationship with us. In this Privacy and Security Policy, the terms "we," "us" and "our" refer to Econocheck Corporation and the terms "you" and "your" refer to each person who has received a product or service through us. This policy applies to our former customers as well as to our existing customers.

Nonpublic Personal Information.

This Privacy and Security Policy relates primarily to our use of nonpublic personal information. Nonpublic personal information means information that relates specifically to you and that is not available from a public source (such as government records, phone books, or widely distributed media). Nonpublic personal information also includes any list, description, or other grouping of customers that is created using nonpublic information.

How We Obtain Personal Customer Information and What We Collect.

We collect nonpublic personal information about you through the following sources:

- Information we receive from you in connection with providing services to you, including information received through our product websites, written or verbal correspondence, on applications or other forms, etc.
- Information we receive about your transactions with us or others, such as your name, address, telephone number, etc.

How We Use Your Personal Information.

We disclose your personal information only for our legitimate business purposes and in compliance with all applicable laws and regulations. The following summarizes the principal ways in which we disclose your personal information:

- Disclosure to Nonaffiliated Third Parties. We may disclose information about you, including nonpublic personal information, to nonaffiliated third parties as described below. ("Nonaffiliated third parties" are companies that do not control Econocheck Corporation and that are not controlled by or under common control with us.) We are permitted by law to disclose this information.
- Disclosure to Service Providers. We may disclose all of the information we collect, as described above, to companies that provide services for us, such as benefit and insurance providers, printing companies, etc. We require that these service providers maintain the confidentiality of your information and that they use the information only for the purposes for which we have provided it. We also require our service providers to implement and maintain appropriate safeguards to protect the confidentiality of your information.
- Disclosure for Marketing Purposes. We may disclose all of the information we collect, as described above, to companies that perform marketing services on our behalf. Whenever we disclose your information to another company, we require that these companies maintain the confidentiality of your information and that they use the information only for the purposes for which we have provided it.

- Disclosure for Legal Requirements. We may use all of the information we collect, as described above, to satisfy legal requirements. We also will share your nonpublic personal information with government agencies and legitimate investigators as required or allowed by law, including in order to comply with applicable government reporting or legal process (such as court orders, subpoenas, or government requests) which we reasonably believe to be valid or required.
- Disclosure with Your Consent. We may disclose the information that we collect, as described above, with any person when you have provided your written consent for us to do so, including when you give someone a power of attorney or other authorization to act on your behalf.

Your Request for Information in Connection with Recorded Personal Information.

You may request a copy of the personal information we have on file by calling us at (800) 241-6803.

Protecting the Security of Your Information.

Your privacy is considered in all aspects of our business. We have established information security policies and procedures to ensure the security of your information. We routinely update these policies to comply with changing federal regulations and security standards, and we have implemented physical and technical security measures to ensure the integrity and security of our systems. We also limit access to personally identifiable information about you to only those individuals and entities who have a specific business reason to know such information.

Accuracy of Customer Information.

We believe that it is important to maintain the accuracy of all of your information with us. We have systems designed to ensure this accuracy and to correct any information that we learn to be inaccurate. If you believe that we have any inaccurate information concerning you, please contact us at (800) 241-6803 and we will take appropriate action to verify the information and to correct it as appropriate.

How We Use Cookies

We use session cookies to help us gather aggregated statistical data about the use of our website. Cookies are only collected during your online activity at our website and not during any of your other internet activity. Cookies set by us are not shared with any other third party.

Links to other sites

Our site may contain links to other non-affiliated sites. You may be linked to non-affiliated websites of providers of some of the services provided by us and you may be asked to accept Terms and Conditions prior to accessing information from the websites of these providers. These terms are separate from our Terms of Use and are specific to those providers. Econocheck Corporation is not responsible for the privacy practices, terms of use, and/or the content of such websites. Visitors should read the privacy statements and terms and conditions found on other websites visited for information regarding the specific privacy practices of those providers.

For questions related to this Privacy and Security Policy, please call (800)-241-6803.